Version: 2.0

Effective date: 02.03.2026

As producers of WEEE under the Waste Electrical & Electronic Equipment Regulations 2013, as amended 2015 & 2018, we B. Braun are obliged to take back WEEE supplied to an end user, for treatment and recycling.

For products placed on the market before the 13th August 2005, 'like-for-like' to that which B. Braun supply and for products placed on the market on or after the 13th August 2005, B. Braun and Aesculap products.

Electrical and electronic equipment should never be disposed of within general household waste but must be separately collected for proper treatment and recovery. WEEE can be identified by an identifying mark on the product label, a crossed out black wheelie bin.

If any of our customers or in certain cases other end users, require us to take back WEEE, they should contact us at the below address. We will agree the necessary arrangements for the return, for proper treatment and recycling of the WEEE.

With your help it is possible to reduce the amount of electrical and electronic waste ending up in landfill and to improve quality of life by preventing the release of potentially hazardous substances into the environment.
